THE PROJECT STAR DATA SET

The Project STAR public access data set contains data on test scores, treatment groups, and student and teacher characteristics for the four years of the experiment, from academic year 1985-86 to academic year 1988-89. The test score data analyzed in this chapter are the sum of the scores on the math and reading portion of the Stanford Achievement Test. The binary variable "Boy" in Table 13.2 indicates whether the student is a boy (= 1) or girl (= 0); the binary variables "Black" and "Race other than black or white" indicate the student's race. The binary variable "Free lunch eligible" indicates whether the student is eligible for a free lunch during that school year. The teacher's years of experience are the total years of experience of the teacher whom the student had in the grade for which the test data apply. The data set also indicates which school the student attended in a given year, making it possible to construct binary school-specific indicator variables.

We have included two versions of the data set on the website. STAR_SW includes the variables that were used in the analysis in Chapter 13. WEBSTAR contains the complete dataset (which we downloaded from the Project STAR website http://www.herosinc.org/star.htm)
